

TO BOOM THE STOCK MARKET

Purpose of Increase in Cotton Tariff Schedules.

BRISTOW BLAMES ALDRICH

Kansas Senator Says That the Rhode Island Man Insisted Upon Increased Cotton Duties, When Mill Owners and Manufacturers Testified They Were Not Needed.

Topeka, Kan., July 26.—In an address here United States Senator Joseph L. Bristow declared that United States Senator Aldrich forced an increase in the cotton tariff schedules when the cotton manufacturers in this country were not asking for it; Senator Bristow charged that the increases were made for the purpose of booming the stock market.

"It is interesting to know," declared Senator Bristow, "why Mr. Aldrich insisted upon increased cotton duties when the mill owners and manufacturers testified in the hearings before the ways and means committee that they were not needed. But an examination of the stock issues for the United States for the year 1909 furnished the reason.

"These increases were not made for the protection of any legitimate manufacturing enterprise in the United States, but to boom the stock market. Last year there were issued $90,000,000 additional cotton and woolen stocks, $64,000,000 that had been previously authorized but not issued and $26,000,000 of new stocks.

"How much of this stock represented actual investment I am not advised, but under the impression that these increased duties on cotton goods and maintenance of the excessive duty on woolens would give at least a temporary impetus to the business these stocks found a market.

In the interests of gamblers.

"So these increases, therefore, driven through by Mr. Aldrich, were in the interests of the stock gamblers and speculators and not in interests of legitimate manufacturing enterprises.

"The duty on cotton goods valued at more than 7 cents per square yard was increased on an average of 20 to 25 per cent in the face of the testimony of H. P. Lippitt, representative of the Cotton Manufacturers' association of New England, before the ways and means committee, that the cotton manufacturers did not want any increased schedules."

Continuing, Senator Bristow said: "This method of tariff legislation is almost as reprehensible as the increase in the duties on lead and rubber.

"The woolen schedules, declared indefensible by President Taft in his celebrated Winona speech, carried on the ordinary woolen fabrics of women's dress goods duties ranging from 115 to 145 per cent; on woolen blankets from 118 to 165 per cent and on other woolen clothes and fabrics used by every family duties usually as extravagant. No attempt was made to ascertain the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad on these fabrics, but imperative demand was made by Senator Aldrich that the woolen schedule be not touched, declaring it to be the keystone of the protective arch."

TO OUST CITY OFFICIALS

Nebraska's Governor Issues Order to Attorney General.

Lincoln, Neb., July 26.—Governor Shallenberger sent Attorney General Thompson a letter directing that official to institute ouster proceedings against Chief of Police Donahue and Fire and Police Commissioners Fred Hoye, William J. Hunter and William F. Wapnick of Omaha. They are charged with nonenforcement of the 8 o'clock closing law.

Mayor Dahlgren, who is an ex-officio member of the board, is not made a defendant.

In his letter to the attorney general the governor says that complaint has been filed by Charles J. Karbach, fourth member of the board. Mr. Karbach said he intended to push the proceedings to the finish. He said his efforts had been along the line of stopping the sale of liquor by clubs and asserted that his associates on the board and the chief of police had declined to give him their support.

Chief of Police Donahue said: "The action of Karbach is a surprise. We have been enforcing the liquor laws as best we could and I have never heard Commissioner Karbach complain of the manner in which my force was working."

Easier to Write It.

In 1871 Edward Lear was staying with the governor of Bombay at Mahabaleswar, the hill station of the Bombay presidency. I was there and took a walk with him one day. He asked me the name of some trees. I told him they were called "jambul" trees in India. He immediately produced his sketch book and in his inimitable style drew a bull looking into a jam pot. He said it would help him to remember the name.—London Spectator.

WILL SEARCH FOR ANDREE

Brother of Missing Explorer Sends Representative to Canada.

Winnipeg, July 26.—Martin Rosendahl of Stockholm, Sweden, is in Winnipeg seeking for information bearing on the fate of S. A. Andree and his two companions, Stranderberg and Frankel, who started in 1897 by balloon from the northern part of Spitzbergen in an attempt to reach the North pole, but who were never heard of afterwards.

Rosendahl is well acquainted with E. A. Andree, brother of the lost aerial navigator. The brother is interested in a story published last December of the remnants of a balloon having been found by Eskimos in the Far North. The Eskimos said that many years before they had come across two white men who came down out of the sky in a "white house." These men starved to death and the natives seized the balloon, the cordage of which they converted to their own uses.

Rosendahl declares his intention of tracing these rumors to their foundation and following up every clue that gives any reasonable promise of results.

JACK JOHNSON SURPRISED

Arrested in New York for Obstructing Traffic by Standing Still.

New York, July 26.—Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight, was arrested here again. His automobile again was the cause. Being arrested for speeding has become an old story with Johnson, but it was a real shock when he was arrested this time for standing still.

He was accused of obstructing traffic by stopping the machine seven feet from the curb, and an additional charge of having a wrong number on his car placed against him.

PUTS ACID IN HER EYE

South Dakota Woman Suffers From Mistake in Bottle.

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 26.—Mrs. John Duke of Wentworth had a distressing experience, mistaking a bottle of carbolic acid for a bottle of rose-water, which she had been using for an affected eye. Reaching to a dresser, she secured what she believed to be the bottle containing the rosewater. Instead the bottle she grasped was one containing carbolic acid. Pouring a quantity into her eye cup, she tipped her head back and poured the burning liquid into her eye. She suffered terribly, but retained presence of mind enough to as quickly as possible wash out the burning liquid with water and then apply alcohol. Her promptness alone saved the eye from complete destruction, and as it was the eye was badly injured, but it is believed it will be saved.

AVIATION SUNBURN IS LATEST

Atlantic City's Curious Ones Victims. Dilatory Air Sailors Cause.

The flying machine demonstrations at Atlantic City boomed the sale of sunburn lotion. Bathers remained in the surf for a longer period than they planned when they first entered the breakers because of the tantalizing postponement by aviators from hour to hour awaiting the wind to die down.

Others remained exposed to the sun on the beach and on the board walk for like reasons. When the sun is brilliant it leaves its caress or impression upon all exposed cuticle, and there are thousands of visitors who suffered what they call "aviation sunburn." The druggists had just the thing to relieve the smarting, with the resultant effect of this filling rapidly.

Colonel Roosevelt Silent.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 26.—Theodore Roosevelt declined to comment upon the Ohio political situation or to discuss the merits of the candidates for the gubernatorial nomination. Last week he said he favored a progressive platform in Ohio, but as to nominations he was silent.

NEW TUNNEL IS PLANNED

Great Northern Reconstruction Will Be Costly.

Seattle, July 26.—Plans prepared by Alexander Stewart, assistant chief engineer of the Great Northern railroad, for the reconstruction of a part of the main line of that road west of Wellington, in the Cascades, were examined by the members of the Washington state railroad commission. They include the construction of a new tunnel at a lower level than the present one.

The work the Great Northern has under way at Wellington and west of that point will be completed by Dec. 1 and will cost nearly $1,500,000.

ATTEMPTS TO WRECK TRAINS

Obstructions Placed on Railroad Track Near Bismarck, N. D.

Bismarck, N. D., July 26.—Two attempts were made to wreck Northern Pacific coast trains in broad daylight Sunday. Train No. 15, arriving here at 3:15 p. m., reported several angle irons tied to the track near Apple Creek, a small station five miles east. They were seen in time for the train to be stopped.

Train No. 8, due two hours later from the west, was warned of No. 15's experience and was on the look-out, and also discovered angle bars and fish plates piled up on the track. These were removed and the police notified, but when they reached the place there was no clue.

The place where the obstructions were found is ideal for a holdup.

JAMES R. GARFIELD NOW AT COLUMBUS

But His Presence Fails to Illumine Situation.

Columbus, O., July 26.—The arrival at the capital of James R. Garfield, leader of the "progressives" in the Ohio Republican convention, brought no illumination as to the candidate who will be nominated Wednesday to oppose Judson Harmon for governor. Mr. Garfield announced that the fight he will make for the adoption of a platform more radical than that which the other leaders have suggested does not mean an assault upon the president.

In reference to the expected presentation of his own name as a candidate for governor he merely commented that there are "some platforms on which a man could not consent to run."

Mr. Garfield will be represented upon the resolutions committee, which will frame the platform, by Congressman Paul Howland of Cleveland, formerly colleague of Senator Burton in the lower house. It is uncertain whether the former secretary of the interior, who is not a delegate to the convention, will appear before the committee in person.

Despite numerous efforts the leaders of the "regular" wing of the party have not yet arrived at an agreement on a candidate for governor.

CHICAGO WOMAN EDUCATORS' PRIDE

Mrs. Young's Handling of City's Schools Praised.

RECEIVES A $10,000 SALARY

Defeated Six Male Candidates For Position, Then Amputated Curriculums of Fads and Runs Big System on Common Sense, With the Old Log Schoolhouse as Starting Point.

Chicago's public school system is coming in for pretty close attention just now, and all because for the first time in its history a woman is running it. That woman is Dr. Ella Flagg Young, who was elected president of the National Educational association in Boston the other day.

There are other woman Ph. D.'s in this country, but Mrs. Young is the first woman chosen to run the public school system of a big city, a job requiring no end of executive ability. Chicago's school population is only second in size to New York's, and Mrs. Young wields authority over thousands and thousands of children and hundreds of teachers.

Receives $10,000 Salary.

Mrs. Young gets a salary of $10,000 a year and hence is one of the highest paid woman workers in this country. She is sixty-four and began to teach when she was sixteen. She has been a widow twenty-five years. The University of Chicago gave Mrs. Young her Ph. D. several years ago when she was already looked upon as being in the front rank of educators.

Although she was born in New York state, Mrs. Young has lived in Chicago practically all her life, has been principal of its normal school and a professor in the University of Chicago. She is editor of the Educational Monthly and a member of the Chicago Woman's club and the Everyday club. So much do they think of Mrs. Young that they have the Ella F. Young club in Chicago made up of woman principals in the schools.

Defeated Six Men.

Mrs. Young defeated six men for the position she now holds. It was said that she won over the board of education in her favor by sheer force of her personality.

Mrs. Young believes in cutting out some of the fads. At the time of her election she was quoted as saying:

"The time has come to put a check on the fads and to ask ourselves which of them are really useful. We must not confuse the real purposes of teaching by too many trimmings. Much that was good was added to the old log schoolhouse curriculum, but much that was useless was added also."

A radical change in the study of German in the Chicago public schools, which involves the elimination of Gothic type and German script, is under consideration by Mrs. Young in connection with the revision of the course of study now under way.

Two reasons are given by Mrs. Young for her desire to use Roman type and English script in place of the German characters. She claims that Gothic type and German script are harder on the eyes than the type and script used by English speaking people and that pupils who attempt to learn both the English and German script usually are poor penmen in both languages.

Noted Relics For Mexican College.

HUNDRED FILE FOR LAND

Big Track Opened for Settlement Near Williston, N. D.

Williston, N. D., July 26.—When the United States land office in this city opened its doors in the morning nearly 100 people, including many women, stood in line to file on homesteads included in the Nesson Grinnell valley, which was opened to entry.

A number of the applicants had been in line since noon Saturday waiting for an opportunity to secure 160 acres of free land. Many had provided themselves with chairs, blankets and lunches and made themselves as comfortable as possible during the long wait. During the night debates were held by the men on various subjects from the Johnson-Jeffries fight to the official integrity of Ballinger.

In spite of the natural desire to secure an early selection the utmost good feeling prevailed. By mutual agreement numbers were given.

No. 1 went to Mrs. Hattie Smith of Williston, an attractive young widow. Her selection is said to be worth several thousand dollars. The second choice fell to F. Holland, an engineer on the Great Northern. Mrs. Mary Tilden, gray-haired and more than sixty years of age, was No. 3. She had been in line since Saturday.

When the office closed for the day more than 100 filings had been made. The tract opened includes nearly 50,000 acres, comprising some of the best land in North Dakota. It was formerly withdrawn from settlement under the Nesson irrigation project, which was later abandoned and the land restored to entry.

BAKER DENIES THE REPORTS

Partisan Politics Will Not Figure in St. Paul Meeting.

Baltimore, July 26.—Bernard N. Baker, president of the National Conservation congress, which meets in St. Paul in September, returned from that city, where he had been preparing details, and was highly wrought up over rumors to the effect that partisan politics would figure in the great meeting. Mr. Baker vigorously denied all such reports and termed them as utterly untrue. He further denied that the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy would be referred to in any manner by the speakers, or that factional fights would enter into the conference.

Bill Collector Kills Debtor During Quarrel.

Billings, Mont., July 26.—Ward Huz of Huz-Yates Implement company, one of the most prominent business men of this city, was shot and instantly killed here by William Denton, a local liveryman.

Denton, it is said, had endeavored to collect a bill for $1 from Huz and a dispute arose. Huz was shot twice, one bullet penetrating one of his lungs. Denton made an effort to escape, but was captured by a posse about four miles from the city. Feeling against the alleged murderer is high, but there is no talk of lynching. Huz was prominent in Elk and Masonic circles.

WORTH OVER HALF A MILLION

Negotiable Bonds Taken by New York Bank Cashier.

New York, July 26.—"Wanted—Erwin Wilder, about thirty-two years old, five feet five inches in height. Weighs about 135 pounds, swarthy of complexion, with a small black moustache curled at the ends. Wears rimless nose glasses, talks with a German accent and is timid in address."

Such is the general alarm sent out by the police for the missing cashier of the Russo-Chinese bank.

When the bank first made public the fact that its strong box was short the amount was given as $80,000, all in negotiable bonds, a list of which was furnished. Later the amount suddenly jumped to $500,000, of which the additional $520,000 is said to be in stocks partly owned by the bank and partly by its customers.

No positive statement has been made yet as to where these stock certificates now are, or with what intent they were stolen. No list of the certificates or the owners in whose names they stand on the books of the companies by which they were issued is available.

Opponents of County Option Plan Sure of Victory.

CLAIM A LARGE MAJORITY

assert They Will Have Six-Hundred and Fifty Votes Out of the Eight Hundred and Sixty-six Delegates Who Will Attend the Nebraska Democratic Convention—Bryan Will Be on Resolutions Committee.

Grand Island, Neb., July 26.—On the eve of the Democratic state convention, at which it is expected William J. Bryan will be turned down hard by his former friends and supporters, nothing is heard but "death to Bryan." Not in so many words, but with the same meaning. The town is filled with delegates and a majority appears opposed to Bryan and his county option plans. Every man has a knife out for the once popular political hero of Nebraska and when the vote is taken Bryan will be the worst beaten man that ever went into a Nebraska convention.

Anti-Bryan leaders are claiming 650 votes out of the 866 delegates, and are not conceding to Mr. Bryan even the 236 remaining ones. On the other hand, Bryan has not given up the fight. His brother, C. W. Bryan, said: "My brother will insist on the convention inserting a county option plank and he will do everything possible to that end. He has no set speech, but will fit argument to conditions as he finds them."

The anti-Bryanites are so sure of their victory that they have agreed to place Mr. Bryan on the committee on resolutions and to permit him to bring in a minority report, which he can place before the convention and argue to his heart's content, and then the convention will turn in and simply snow him under with votes.

Confident of Victory.

Hundreds of delegates to the Democratic state convention, driven into the few hotel lobbies of the city by a driving rain storm, discussed the plans for the contest expected to be waged in the convention hall. Leaders of the fight against county option were here in force and apparently were confident that nothing could develop to alter their stand against the insertion of a county option plank in the platform to be adopted by the convention.

W. J. Bryan, leader in the battle for county rule on the question, did not appear in Grand Island during the night, although he had been anxiously awaited by the small band of delegates who are pledged to the county option plank.

The question of an endorsement of the administration of Governor Shallenberger, which had promised to be an important issue before the convention, has almost been lost sight of in the county option warfare.

The Populist convention, which also will be held in Grand Island, may lend complications to the Democratic situation, as, at a gathering of the leaders, it was indicated that a county option plank would form a part of the platform. The leaders also declared in favor of the initiative and referendum on the matter.

Among the Populist delegates are many of the one time adherents of Mr. Bryan and it is believed by many that the action of the smaller convention may have an important bearing on the deliberations of the Democrats.

THREE DEATHS DUE TO HEAT

Fatal Relapses Suffered by Patients in Hospital.

Williston, N. D., July 26.—Three deaths, due partially to the extreme heat, occurred in Williston. Nicholas Bruegger, eldest brother of Mayor John Bruegger, had been ill with a complication of diseases and was apparently on the road to recovery when the hot weather resulted in a relapse which proved fatal. John Sorenson, former roadmaster for the Great Northern, was another victim. He was ill in a local hospital with typhoid fever, but had passed the critical period when the heat resulted in a fatal relapse. Solomon A. Harter, residing near Ray, was the third victim. He had been brought here for medical treatment and in his weakened condition was unable to withstand the heat that prevailed.

Nebraska Republicans.

Lincoln, Neb., July 26.—The principal questions that will receive consideration at the hands of the delegates to the Republican state convention here are "progressiveness" and control of the liquor business by the county option plan, and from all appearances the "progressives" and the "optionists" control the situation.

Injured by an Auto.

St. Paul, July 26.—Henry O'Brien, sixty years of age, was run down by an automobile owned by A. I. Shapiro, proprietor of a jewelry store. Mr. O'Brien was seriously injured and it was taken to Bethesda hospital. It was found that two ribs on the left side were fractured and he was suffering from shock. Advanced age complicates his case.

The conservation and the fair will make the first week in September this year one of the most notable in the history of Minnesota.

Sugar beets are a profitable crop in northern Minnesota, and according to the Bemidji Pioneer fifteen tons per acre is the output in that section. Experiments show that the beets that were planted early this spring stood the drought much better than the other crops. The price for this crop is $4 per ton and where close to factories goes as high as $5 and $6. Bemidji people are considering a proposition from parties who own a beet sugar plant at Chaska, who say that if 5,000 acres is planted to this product they will come in there with their capital and build a factory.

The edict has gone forth from Washington that women stenographers are no longer wanted in the government service and all departments of the service are seeking to replace women stenographers with men, the position taken being that the latter are more amenable to discipline, more easily transferred to places where their services are needed and can more readily be drafted into other kinds of work. Here is a chance for the women suffragists to get busy with the law making department at Washington and see to it that their sex is not discriminated against in the matter of political patronage and in civil service appointments. If women could only vote now, wouldn't they tell their congressmen a thing or two.

FILLED WITH CURIOSITY.

That Was Why He Was Anxiously Waiting Outside the House.

The man was standing behind a tree in front of an apartment house in a cross street when the cop on that beat came pounding along on the sidewalk. It was close to midnight, and naturally the cop stopped and looked at the man standing behind the tree.

"Howdy," says the cop, by way of opening conversation.

"You're another," replied the man good naturedly.

"Whutuh doin'—waitin' for somebody?" inquired the brave policeman.

"Nope."

"Just standin' there, hey?"

"You've hit it."

"Live near here, do you?"

"Right in there," says the citizen, jerking his thumb in the direction of the apartment house he was standing in front of.

The cop looked at him thoughtfully for a minute.

"Mebby it's none of my business," he says, "and then again meebby it is. I don't like to go round buttin' into anybody's private affairs, but tell me, neighbor, what's your graft, anyhow?"

"Well," loosened up the citizen. "If it's a case of me a-tellin' you or you croakin' from curiosity right in front of my eyes, I'll tell you how it is—provided it don't go any further. My wife says to me when I started downtown this evenin', 'If you're not home by midnight I'm goin' to pack up and go right back to mother's. So there.'"

"Well," says the cop.

"Well," repeated the citizen, "it's just about midnight now, and I'm like you—I've got curiosity. I'm waitin' here to see if she's goin' to keep her word."

The cop's curiosity ceased at that point, and he walked on down the street whistling, without waiting to see the thing out.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE SPEED MANIA.

Sensations That Come With a Ride in a Racing Motor.

Imagine yourself in a big racing machine plunging over a course at eighty miles an hour. For the average man the sensation is awful, but the speed kings revel in it. Down the road streaks the car. Lashed into a typhoon by the appalling speed, the still air roars in your ears. You think you will never regain your hearing. The resistance of the atmosphere is fearful. The slightest forward movement is an effort. Distant objects loom up suddenly before you and jump by. The landscape is a streaky line of green, blotched here and there as a house is passed. The gale seems to cut your face, and you feel yourself being gradually flattened out against the back of the seat. It seems that the glass in your auto goggles is on the point of breaking. Particles of dust are driven back in your eyes. You may become blinded. The vibration of the engine is terrific. Mysterious indications fluctuate alarmingly. It may mean that the engine is on the point of exploding. What makes the floor tremble so? Surely something will happen now!

And then you hear explosions booming from the exhausts as the drivers "shut off." A sharp turn is ahead. The noise is deafening. The terrific speed does not seem to have been checked. The outline of the turn grows more distinct. It is sheer folly—maybe death—to rush at it at such a pace. You dare not breathe as the car tears into the bend. It skids and a wall of dirt is thrown up alongside you as the driver, with a sharp twist of the wheel, sends the car once more back in the middle of the road. You are safe—until another turn is encountered.—Hampton's Magazine.

A Painful Inference.

A teacher was instructing a class of boys and had spent half an hour trying to drive into their heads the difference between man and the lower animals, but apparently with little success.

"Tommy," he said coaxingly to a little chap, "do you know the difference between, say, me and a pig or any other brute?"

"No," replied Tommy innocently, but another teacher standing by laughed.—London Answers.

Alternating Current Pie.

In the light of what has been learned about the housefly there is no longer any excuse for the gay insouciance of the poet who wrote a summer boarding house lyric, in which these lines occurred:

Here, sir, is your current pie,
Alternating current pie.
First a current, then a fly
'Neath the crust alternate lie.

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Not an Authority.

There are some persons who can't take a joke, but Fogg is not one of them. One of the boys, acquainted with Fogg's frequent changes of abode, asked him which he thought was the cheaper, to move or to pay rent.

"I can't tell you, my dear boy," replied Fogg. "I have always moved."

Willing to Be the Goat.

"Why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" quoted the impassioned orator.

Then he paused a moment to let it take effect.

"Well," spoke up a half inebriated man in the audience, "I'll be the goat. Why should it?"—Chicago Tribune.

FAVORS MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Council Adopts Resolution Last Night Favoring Installation of Water and Light Plant

TO BE MUNICIPALLY OWNED

ask Supreme Court to Pass on the Duties of Water and Light Board

Yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Quinn hurried around and served the notices on members of the council of which the following is a copy of one of them:

Brainerd, Minnesota, July 25th, 1910.

A special meeting of the city council, of the city of Brainerd, Minnesota, is hereby called to be held at the council chambers, at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of ascertaining the constitutionality of the city charter, on municipal affairs, and such other business as may come before the council.

T. E. TOOHEY, President of the Council.

The council met in the evening at the council chambers and the following were present: President Twohey, and Aldermen Henning, Robertson, Zakariassen, Kjellquist and Dieckhaus. Mayor Ousdahl was in attendance.

City Clerk Roderick read the call for the special meeting. President Twohey vacated the chair which was hereupon assumed by Alderman Zakariassen.

Alderman Twohey took the floor and said he had called the meeting in his own option. He had seen no attorney about the matter. Although he admitted that the charter had no resolutions were to be adopted, he was to have any weight whatever unless they were passed on by the city attorney he considered it advisable any way for the council to do something so as to let the people know what stand they took on these matters. He mentioned that the mayor had not conferred with the council when the light plant burned regarding what action was to be taken by the city to meet the emergency and that he saw no reason why the council should confer with him now.

Other statements he made precipitated an argument between himself, Alderman Henning and the mayor which grew quite acrimonious and personal.

Alderman Twohey withdrew his remarks regarding Alderman Henning.

Mayor Ousdahl asserted the Water and Light board had the necessary power in an emergency to do anything necessary to serve the public.

Alderman Henning said something could be done soon and did not care how it did it, whether it was the Water and Light board, the council or the special committee. He believed that municipal plant was the only solution. He believed further that the council should go on record as expressing its opinion as to what was best for the interests of the city.

His expression of the council would have an effect on public opinion at the present time or if submitted to the vote of the people.

Alderman Twohey said he believed municipal ownership.

Alderman Henning said they could opt all the resolutions they wished without the presence of a city attorney.

A resolution was introduced to submit the matter of the powers of the water and light board to the state supreme court for a decision. The motion was put and two votes were recorded in favor of it.

Alderman Gardner came in and this necessitated another explanation of the whole subject under discussion.

Alderman Twohey's resolution was again broached and reads as follows: "Be it resolved that the necessary steps be taken to ascertain the constitutionality of certain sections of the present city charter pertaining to the duties of the Water and Light Board."

All present voted aye.

Alderman Paine came in after the vote was taken and when asked how he stood said he did not favor such a resolution as it would take the state supreme court a half year before it reached the case.

Alderman Henning introduced the following resolution:

"Be it resolved by the city council of the city of Brainerd, Minn., in special meeting assembled that after careful consideration of the various propositions submitted to the city of Brainerd for the purpose of furnishing electric power for electric lighting, water pumping and other power purposes, do hereby declare that in our judgment it is for the best interests of the city of Brainerd that the city install a municipally owned water and light plant."

We further recommend that every effort be made to secure good and wholesome water for our city."

The ayes and nays were called and vote stood as follows:

Aldermen Twohey, Henning, Robertson, Zakariassen, Kjellquist, Dieckhaus, Drexler, Cardie, and Alderman Paine.

The matter of the cost of production was discussed and Mayor

Ousdahl asserted that a municipal plant could produce cheaper current than any other proposition so far submitted. He maintained that after a certain production had been attained that current could be produced for 1 cent a K. W. H. He asserted that as the ratio of cost of production decreased. He submitted to the council his estimate of the cost of production of a combined water and light plant.

In conclusion the council adopted a resolution employing William Crowell as special attorney at a salary of $50 to take up the litigation testing the legality of sections of the charter in order to ascertain the duties of the Water and Light board.

Another Murder AT WALKER

Edward Lucia, Well Known in Brainerd, Shoots James Boardman Killing Him Instantly

TROUBLE OVER HIS DAUGHTER

Assassin Flees But is Captured and Landed in County Jail After a Hard Struggle

Walker, Minn., July 26.—Edward Lucia, a steamboat pilot on Leech lake, shot and killed James Boardman, engineer at the Leech Lake Lumber company's sawmill, with a rifle, the shot taking effect in Boardman's forehead, death being instantaneous.

Lucia says Boardman and his stepson, Earl Hoyer, were making a white slave of his sixteen-year-old daughter, Cora.

Arriving at the tent where Boardman and the boy were together with Mrs. Boardman, Lucia opened up on the man, firing three shots, and then took to the woods back of the premises. The village was at once aroused, and men with guns organized themselves as a posse and commenced a search of the woods for Lucia, who was found after half an hour by Robert Block of St. Paul. Block took the gun away from Lucia and the man went peacefully to the county jail, where he is now in custody. The shooting was evidently premeditated, as Lucia went to the place with a gun and a woman heard him remark that he was going to shoot both the man and his stepson.

Lucia's daughter had been staying at the Boardwell home for some time, and her father had had words with Boardwell on prior occasions because she remained at the latter's home. The girl is exceedingly good looking and has a tinge of Indian blood in her veins, her mother being a halfbreed. She has always borne a good reputation. Boardwell was about forty-two years of age, and Lucia is sixty-four.

The Gull Lake Reservoir

Editors Dispatch:—As one of the witnesses in the appeal case from the commissioners' appraisal in the condemnation proceedings to obtain flowage rights for the Gull lake reservoir, I think it would be interesting to other parties who have surrendered these rights to know that the verdict of the jury, as reported in last week's Dispatch, was formed on the ruling of the court that the government had a right, if it saw fit, to flow these lands up to the high contour line without liability for further damage.

While I have no idea that this ruling can have any other effect than the influence it may have had on the jury's mind in finding a verdict in this case, it is well that those who have surrendered these rights, as well as those liable to be affected (amongst whom I am one) should have a distinct understanding of the situation.

The bill passed by congress making appropriations for the construction of the dam and dredging within the reservoir, provided that the maximum height to which the water should be raised, should be 1197 feet above sea level, and all deeds conveying rights of flowage to the government particularly specify that fact. To provide for possible damage to lands higher than that level through sudden rise of the water from excessive rainfall, through seepage or through obstruction to drainage, the government, as has been its custom, condemned and has now secured the right giving only easement from liability for damage from flowage, to all lands under a level of 1199 feet above sea level. This level is known as the "high contour line."

Now, if, according to this ruling of the court, the government has a right to flow these lands to the "high contour line," it reasonably follows according to its own provisions in the case, and according to the terms of the deeds it holds, that it stands liable for damages to all lands under a level of 1201 feet, that is, two feet above the water level.

Personally, I do not think the government through the Dept. of Interior or the engineer's office construes the act in that light; and I do not anticipate any trouble to settlers in that direction. But without harboring suspicion, it is the personal duty of every citizen to endeavor to know what his own rights consist in, and how they are liable to be affected and to stand respectfully and manfully for them. Thus only are we the moral supporters of good government. Acquiescence is not always support.

HARMONY REIGNS IN W.&L BOARD

The Board Allows $4000 Bills—Takes no Action on Other Matters

NO ACTION ON SMART'S MOTION

Stoner Submits New Proposition—Matters on the Table Not Resurrected

While the city council held its special session at the council chambers last night the Water and Light board held its meeting on the same floor in the city clerk's office.

There were present M. T. Dunn, Mons Mahlum and R. B. Smart.

The session, as Mr. Dunn remarked was harmonious.

Bills to the amount of $4,000 were allowed by the board which included the payment of 4 per cent interest on $40,000 bond issue, the Slipp-Gruenhagen bill of $885, the payment of the contract for the installation of the new pump, the regular pay roll and a few small items which totalled $200.

At Friday's session Mayor Ousdahl recommended the sinking of wells in Swartz's driving park in order to furnish a water supply for the city. The matter was laid on the table Friday night and no action was taken last night.

At Friday night's session R. B. Smart proposed issuing $101,000 bonds to install a municipal steam plant. His motion was laid on the table, and was not resurrected last night.

The resolution favoring municipal ownership as adopted by the council at last night's session was submitted to the Water and Light board who placed it on file and took no action.

M. D. Stoner submitted another proposition in writing to the Water and Light Board wherein he agreed to furnish current at the city switchboard at 2 1-2 cents per K. W. H. and to do pumping for 1 1-2 cents per K. W. H., making an average of 2 1-10 cents per K. W. H. for the entire load. This is a 15 year proposition. He also agreed to put in a steam plant as an auxiliary as mentioned in his previous offer. The power clause as mentioned in the old proposition is stricken out and left entirely in the hands of the city to manage.

N. P. Clerks Played Machinists

In a hot 11 inning game the N. P. clerks defeated the married machinists base ball team Saturday, July 23. The game was full of exciting incidents. The feature was the catching of Engebretsen for the clerks. Falkenreck on the slab for the machinists pitched steady ball and was good in pinches. Tony Anderson for the clerks was wild at times but proved to be there with the goods. Hartley in left field for the machinists played a star game as did Jack Smith at third.

With the score 7 to 5 against them in the ninth and two out Carl Anderson for the clerks singled; Engebretsen walked and Roland Barron got a two bagger to the centre field fence, scoring Anderson and Engebretsen. There was no scoring in the 10th inning although both sides had men on bases.

In the 11th inning with two out and Engebretsen on third G. Barron got a hit through short and Engebretsen brought in the winning run.

The line-up was as follows: For the Machinists, Hall, cf; Falkenreck, p.; Little, 1st; E. Forsberg, 2nd; J. Smith, 3rd; E. Gardner, ss; Hartley, lf; Evenson, cf; Weichmann, rf. For the clerks, A. ### Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. ### F. S. Parker's New Auto

F. S. Parker is the proud owner of a handsome Oldsmobile special, a 1910, forty horsepower, four cylinder, five passenger machine, equipped with all the latest appliances and improvements.

The machine was purchased at the company's shops in Detroit and came by way of the great lakes to Duluth where Mr. Parker, Clyde Parker, E. E. Merrill, of St. Paul and the chauffeur, Henry Rosko, boarded it and took it under its own power to Brainerd.

The road traversed from Duluth to Brainerd was a circuitous route for Mr. Parker on leaving Duluth traveled first to Carlton, then to Pine City, Mora and Wahnkon and skirting Mille Lacs lake toured through Midland and thence to Brainerd. Their mileage ran up to over 206 miles.

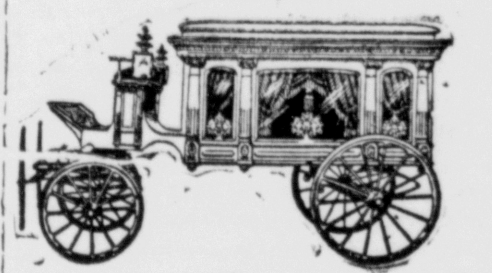

The machine behaved well on its first trip and successfully met all the adverse conditions of muddy roads and hilly country. The automobile is of a dark blue finish and is certainly a beauty and a car which any man would be proud to possess.

Swedish-American Singers Continue Their Triumphal Tour Through Sweden—Ski Tournament on a Midsummer Day One of the Year's Novelties in Norway—Rats Causing Great Annoyance at Copenhagen.

SWEDEN.

The Swedish-American singers are continuing on their triumphal tour through Sweden and have been giving concerts during the past week in Halmstad, "onkoping and Norrkoping. In all these cities they received an enthusiastic reception and their singing captured the audiences every time. Swedish audiences are surprised at the splendid way in which the American singers are rendering Swedish songs and cannot understand that they are able to preserve the gems of Swedish song out in the far West. When they arrived in Stockholm June 30 the Central station was filled with thousands of people and the surrounding streets were crowded to their fullest capacity. They were received at the Central station by United States Consul Winslow, "Kammarräde Baren" and other members of the reception committee. A double quartette selected from the Swedish-American society of Stockholm rendered "America" under the direction of Herr Assar and the American singers responded with the Swedish national anthem, "Vart Land." On Thursday evening, June 30, followed the regular concert in Ostermalms cathedral. It was filled to the last seat with an enthusiastic audience and the singers were at their best throughout the entire programme. On the evening of July 4 the singers were received by King Gustaf in the "Hvita Huset" at the palace and after singing the king with a song the king had the pleasure of listening to a speech of welcome from the friendly monarch. A little later Director Orntegren and Olof Nelson of Chicago were called forth and were awarded the Order of Vasa. This is quite a distinction and both Mr. Orntegren and Mr. Nelson were visibly affected. The singers also were entertained by the Stockholm Press club and at Hasselbacken.

There are some very notorious night scenes in Stockholm, although it is regarded as a comparatively peaceful city. The other night a wealthy country gentleman, who owns large estates, was taking a promenade on Mastersamuel's street when a woman suddenly appeared and commenced to embrace him tenderly. Just as suddenly a man appeared on the scene and while the woman was engaged in embracing the country gentleman he made for his large pocketbook, which contained several hundred crowns in paper money, and made his escape with it. The gentleman from the country, however, began to cry "robber" and soon a crowd gathered and went in pursuit of the man and woman, resulting in their arrest. The woman was found to be a notorious prostitute and the man proved to be none other than the daring card sharp and swindler, Erik Enok Johansson. Similar occurrences have been rather frequent this summer and the Stockholm police are very much on the alert at present as a result of it.

Miss Valfrid Palmgren is the first woman member of the city council in Stockholm and the other evening she made her debut as a speaker in the large-city council room. She spoke on her favorite theme, the "Betterment of the City's Morals," and her address was listened to with rapt attention throughout. Her address also teemed with piquant criticism against methods that are in vogue at present in the regulation of city affairs and while there were replies, and sharp ones, too, it was cheerfully conceded that her points were well taken. When she had closed her maiden speech the room was filled with applause and bravos. The members of the council concede that in Miss Palmgren they have received a valuable member and she will no doubt be a force for much good influence in that body and inaugurate reforms which will be of immense benefit to the city of Stockholm.

The large rats which were present in such large numbers in Copenhagen some years ago have returned and are causing many a night of trouble again. The authorities are preparing for another rat war and are going to set the police force and others busy to once more clear the city of the obnoxious rodents. They are especially present in large numbers around "Kongen's Nytorv," where they are proving to be a great nuisance.

The Copenhagen police have lately been conducting a series of raids on some of the gambling dens in the city and have succeeded in discovering several of them and closing them up. A large number of arrests have been made. It appears that the city this summer has been infested with foreign gamblers as well as native ones and the police are going after them in a way which is most gratifying.

The management of the Dagmar theater at Copenhagen has engaged Professor Rils-Knutson, formerly director of the theater, as scenic director. He has had a great deal of experience in this line of work and his selection for the position has received much favorable comment from the Copenhagen papers.

Sir Walter Scott's Debts.

The Ballynure failure threw upon Sir Walter Scott the responsibility for £130,000, or $650,000, and the grand old man immediately set about the mighty task of paying it; but, notwithstanding the most heroic efforts on his part, he never succeeded in paying it all. He did the best he could, but he had to depend solely upon his writings, and the task was more than mortal man could accomplish. As his powers failed he became possessed of the idea that all his debts were paid and that he was a free man, and in this belief he happily remained till his death—New York American.

Better Dream On.

"Isn't that a perfect dream of a hat?" she demanded of the man by her side.

"I said," she repeated after some seconds of silence, "Isn't that a dream of a hat?"

Still silence from the man. Then she ventured reproachfully: "Why don't you say something?"

"My dear, you seemed to enjoy your dream so that I was afraid of waking you up," the man then replied.

showing that the question of training or lack of training does not cut a big figure among the ski experts. The midsummer ski tournament at Finse undoubtedly will be repeated every year after this and as its successful possibilities have been proved beyond a doubt the preparations and attendance naturally will grow from year to year until it will be recognized as an international event of great importance.

"The First Norwegian Physician in America," is the title of an interesting lecture by Professor Ludwig Hektoen of Chicago university, which has recently made its appearance in print. The lecture was delivered by the professor not long ago before the Scandinavian Medical society's annual meeting in Chicago. The name of the first Norwegian physician in America was Hans Martin Klaveland, who was born in Trondhjem in 1722. When he first settled in America he chose Bethlehem, Pa., as a place to follow his profession and later on he moved to Wackovia, N. C., where he remained a practicing physician until his death. Professor Hektoen describes him as being a man who was considerably ahead of his time and was also an able botanist and gathered a most valuable herbarium which is still in existence. He conducted his own experiments and used herbs as medicines with a great deal of success.

Dr. A. Doe, a prominent Norwegian physician of Chicago, who is at present in Christiania, has written a spirited article in the "Aftenposten" in which he demands that those who have accused Chicago firms of importing horse meat to Norway to either "show up or shut up." In his article he reproduces letters from leading Chicago packers which flatly deny that such a thing has ever been engaged in on their part. The article in question has served to clear the atmosphere a bit and it is not likely that there will be any charges to this effect any more.

This is a great and successful fishing season in Norway. Not for many years have they been catching such large quantities of herring as this year. "Torsk" to the amount of 74,000,000 pounds already have been caught. The herring fisheries in the North sea also have been excellent and fishermen generally are reporting large catches.

The government contemplates setting aside 4,000,000 crowns for the country's fortifications within the next twelve months. Half of this sum will be expended on the navy, which for a small country like Norway is becoming formidable. The theory, "in order to preserve the peace, prepare for war," seems to hold good in small nations also.

Bjornstjerne Bjornson's address to his wife on her fiftieth wedding anniversary has been translated into Italian by Madame Ragnild Lund and has been reproduced in a large number of Italian papers. It will also be published in the French language and will appear in a number of French magazines.

Last year 16,152 persons emigrated from Norway to foreign lands. Most of them went to America and the majority of those emigrating have gone to the Western states to build homes of their own. Such is the Norwegian spirit in America.

The National Anti-Tuberculosis society was organized in Christiania at the university recently. It will be a powerful organization and it will not be long before it will have plenty of money at its command.

PATTERSON LONE

Fighting Governor Stands on Strenuous Record in Third Term Campaign.

THERE was a political assassination in the streets of Nashville on Nov. 9, 1908, which shook Tennessee to its foundations and attracted attention in every state of the Union.

Next day they carried the body of ex-Senator Edward W. Carmack to the railroad station, to be sent to his home. Women wearing white ribbons formed an aisle through which the coffin was carried. In Tennessee women sing hymns in the statehouse when important legislation is pending. They sang hymns here. After the departure of the train a man got up on a baggage truck and addressed them. One of the things he said was:

"The blood of Senator Carmack must be as productive as the blood of the martyrs of old."

Verily the blood of Carmack was poured under—the dragon's teeth were sown—and armed men sprang up all over Tennessee. Half of them were called Pattersonites and half anti-Pattersonites, and they fought each other and have fought ever since and will fight for years to come, because the most powerful political figure, the Tennessee "gamecock," the governor of the state, is young, able and ambitious.

Vetoed Temperance Bill.

Four months later the Coopers were both found guilty, and the jury fixed their sentence at twenty years in prison. The country at large pretty much agreed in this verdict. Appeal was taken to the supreme court, and the case was held up for a year.

In January, 1909, the legislature, by a vote of nearly two to one, passed a state wide prohibition bill. Governor Patterson promptly vetoed it, saying:

"In the name of temperance I refuse assent to an intemperate measure which will cause more evils than it pretends to cure, and in the name of morality I will not sanction a law that will foster hypocrisy and invite evasion and deceit in the people."

The courage of the man was shown by the fact that his inaugural was due to take place within ten days. On Jan. 27 he took the oath of office for the second time, and as his prohibition veto had inflamed the popular mind in Tennessee, he made a dramatic appeal to the people, inviting them to put him on trial in the courts or in the senate sitting as a court of impeachment if they thought him guilty of the slanders that had been circulated about him. He was never tried.

So the governor was reinaugurated, his administration ran on for more than a year, and things were becoming comparatively quiet in Tennessee when the supreme court handed down a long decision granting Robin Cooper a new trial, but affirming the guilt of Colonel Cooper.

Governor Patterson did not wait to learn the decision. No sooner did he learn its purport than he seized a parrot form and signed it. This set Colonel Cooper free and made it practically certain that Robin would never come to trial.

The people had expected Patterson to help his friend Cooper, but they had never dreamed that he would snap his fingers in the face of the supreme court. And in that moment was born the issue which is to determine the result of the gubernatorial election this fall.

Made Plea For South.

As a member of congress he made several notable speeches, one being his criticism of the administration's policy with regard to the Philippines and another the well remembered speech in which he declared that the time had come to drop the old superstition about the south's being unable to furnish any material for the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

Practically unknown to the voters of Tennessee outside Shelby county, except by these speeches, Patterson announced his candidacy for the governorship in August, 1905. He boldly promulgated his platform at the outset and criticized the policies of his own party where he thought it would do the most good. The convention, in amazement at his efforts, nominated him by acclamation.

As Patterson's first term drew toward a close the prohibition movement in the south was at its height. Notable victories for temperance had been won, and there was a stirring for a state wide prohibition law in Tennessee. The first step seemed to be to find a leader. Ex-United States Senator Carmack took the lead and made such a hard fight that Patterson, to break the effect of Carmack's philippics, declared that if elected governor he would sign any prohibition bill the legislature might pass.

Carmack went down to defeat by a small margin. Patterson was elected. The differences of the campaign might have been smoothed out.

STREETS CLEANED; NO DUST

Austrian Invents Auto That Works For Comfort.

Arthur Szymanski, an Austrian civil engineer, has invented a street cleaning machine which does not raise any dust. It consists of an automobile with a revolving brush which not only sweeps up the dust, but throws it into a large funnel, from which it is sucked up and deposited in a metal box.

The dust is not left on the street to be collected later or scattered again by the wind. The box can be removed when full and be replaced by an empty one. The wagon is driven by a 28-horsepower motor and can sweep eleven miles of streets an hour. Empty boxes are placed at convenient places on the route to be exchanged for the filled ones, which are collected later. Every box has a capacity of about fifteen cubic feet.

Grit.

Grit is the grain of character. It may generally be described as a materialized—spirit and will thrust into heart, brain and backbone, so as to form part of the physical substance of the man.—Whipple.

TENNESSEE ISSUE

Carmack Shooting, Cooper Pardon and Prohibition Veto Fail to Daunt Him.

have been forgotten and the Democracy of Tennessee united if Carmack had not been editor of a newspaper. Defeat left its sting, and one inoffensive looking article poking fun at Colonel Robin Cooper's "zweibund" changed the whole course of Tennessee politics.

This caused the shooting of Carmack despite Patterson's effort to calm the Coopers and the natural fury into which the state was thrown.

The Memphis Scimitar came out with an editorial which charged Patterson with being responsible for Carmack's murder and practically said that he had arranged with his friends, the Coopers, to do it, because he could pardon them, while if he did it himself there would be nobody to exercise clemency in his behalf.

What Patterson might have done if left to his first impulses will never be known, for his friends and advisers prevailed on him not to send any message to the Scimitar.

Vetoed Temperance Bill.

Four months later the Coopers were both found guilty, and the jury fixed their sentence at twenty years in prison. The country at large pretty much agreed in this verdict. Appeal was taken to the supreme court, and the case was held up for a year.

In January, 1909, the legislature, by a vote of nearly two to one, passed a state wide prohibition bill. Governor Patterson promptly vetoed it, saying:

"In the name of temperance I refuse assent to an intemperate measure which will cause more evils than it pretends to cure, and in the name of morality I will not sanction a law that will foster hypocrisy and invite evasion and deceit in the people."

The people had expected Patterson to help his friend Cooper, but they had never dreamed that he would snap his fingers in the face of the supreme court. And in that moment was born the issue which is to determine the result of the gubernatorial election this fall.

Judges Fight Back.

Hitherto the nominations for the supreme court have been made at a separate convention, so that they should not become involved with the politics of the state ticket. According to some of the judges, Patterson intimated to the supreme court that he would like to have the Carmack case decided in favor of the Coopers, and when the court refused to accommodate him he sent them word that he would not give them a convention this year, but would make them go into the regular party primaries for their nominations.

Three of the judges retaliated in a way which he little expected. They refused to go into the primary and declared they would run independently.

The judicial election comes in August. The other nominees will be voted for in November. The outgoing judges ask for Republican and independent support in August in the hope of defeating Patterson's nominees. In exchange they will throw their influence and strength against Patterson and the rest of the Democratic state ticket in November.

MANY FISH WALK ON LAND.

Florida and Philippines Produce Strange Specimens.

One of the strangest fishes in the world is the goby, which can swim, but prefers to walk. Often it is seen climbing on the roots of mangroves in Florida, using its pectoral fins after the manner of legs.

In the Philippines there is a fish called the poyo, which spends a large part of its time out of water. In fact, it soon dies if prevented from leaving the water. Sometimes it climbs trees to a considerable height.

Another fish of the Philippines, known as the terebog, is fond of taking walks on land and catches mice and even rats on occasion, devouring them with great relish. It attains a length of three feet.

Auto Plunges Into Creek.

Watertown, S. D., July 25.—Narrowly escaping death, two young men and their companions from this city had an experience that has not been duplicated this season. George Mosier and H. Tiedon left Castlewood for this city in a touring car for an after dark record making run. Coming down the first long hill at full speed the driver lost control of the machine, and it ran off a bridge at the foot of the hill and fell twelve feet into the creek bottom. Fortunately the occupants were thrown clear of the car in its fall, and aside from the shock of the fall were uninjured.

Happiness is not found in self contemplation; it is perceived only when it is reflected from another.—Johnson.

The Only Real Painting is "White-Leading"

CONSIDER the subject of painting in its broadest sense—in its permanent relation to your property.

Estimates should not be based on "painting" merely, in which the paint used may be good or bad, but on "white-leading," which can only mean "painting with pure white lead and linseed oil."

Red Seal

Pure White Lead ("Dutch Boy Painter" trade-mark) manifests its superiority not only in its non-cracking, non-chipping finish, but in holding colors fadeless and weather-proof.

Nor do you have to double your next appropriation for painting by paying for burning off the old paint, as is frequently the case with "painting," for "white-leading" gives an ideal foundation for subsequent painting.

Specify "Dutch Boy Painter" Pure White Lead, the surest and most economical paint for you, the fairest to your painter.

To anyone interested, we will send, free, valuable literature on white-leading, including "Dutch Boy Paint Adviser No. 64."

BIG MEASURES AWAITING

NEXT CONGRESS' ACTION.

Merchant Marine and Injunction Regulation Are Among Them.

There is trouble ahead for the next session of congress. Several tough propositions in the way of big bills are on the program. Among them are those for merchant marine and the regulation of injunctions. Then there are the measures to create the Appalachian and White mountain forest reserves and to permit the federal incorporation of railroads and other common carriers.

The fragments of the Taft legislative program which failed of congressional enactment at the session just ended are already being culled over and put in trim for next winter. The following calendar is already made up:

To create the Appalachian and White mountain forest reserve.

To build up the merchant marine by a system of ship subsidies.

To regulate the granting of injunctions.

To permit the federal incorporation of railroad and other common carriers.

To regulate the issue of stocks and bonds of transportation companies.

The enactment of additional conservation measures, eight bills remaining without action.

To establish a bureau of public health.

To encourage the study of agriculture and the mechanical arts, for which an appropriation of $10,000,000 is proposed.

A form of civil government for Alaska.
